Conference Keynotes

Mike Aitken is the Chief Membership Officer at SHRM after 15 years of leading SHRM's successful advocacy programs as Vice President of Government Affairs. Mike is a leading authority on the issues important to the human resource profession and drives SHRM's membership vision, ensuring excellent member experiences, and implementing the organization's newly developed business strategy. As a member of SHRM's senior management team, Mike plays a key role in setting the strategic direction of the organization, offering important counsel on SHRM's educational programs and professional development opportunities. Prior to joining SHRM in 2003, he spent 14 years with the College and University Professional Association for Human Resources, which represents 23,000 HR professionals at over 1,900 higher education institutions.

Dan Kuester is known for his big personality. He has many years of experience in all levels of leadership, which has proven to be a powerful, educational and entertaining combination. He's also known for his incredibly high-energy, visual and humorous seminars. Dan learned his training and leadership abilities in the U.S. Army where he retired after 23 years with the rank of First Sergeant. He has used these skills while working in human resources and training departments in both the private and public sectors. He has done seminars on change management, sales, customer service and leadership in Las Vegas, Colorado, South Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Michigan and Missouri where he's received rave reviews and numerous requests for return sessions.

Julie Younkin is an experienced learning and development consultant and certified coach with over 25 years' experience leading various leadership and customer service initiatives. Julie has spent the majority of her career developing and mentoring leaders in the financial and technology sectors. She has provided successful leadership development programs to clients like Prudential, Met Life, Cardinal Health, and Seaboard Triumph Foods. She specializes in all things learning spanning from onboarding to executive leadership coaching. She holds certifications in behavior analysis, emotional intelligence, and performance coaching.

Brenda Hamilton is a dynamic speaker who offers fresh perspectives in leadership, communication, team-building, and change management. She launched her speaking business in 2005, by offer training to businesses in her northern Iowa community. Since that time, she has become a nationally-recognized conference speaker and audience favorite, keynoting as several hundred events in twenty-four states

Dr. Jennifer Reecy serves as the Chief Employee Experience Officer (CEEEO) at The First National Bank in Sioux Falls. Through a diverse career path, Jennifer brings a depth of leadership, coaching and consulting experience in multiple education, government, tribal, privately owned and publicly traded businesses and industries. Proudly, Jennifer served her state and country as a Chief Master Sergeant for Headquarters in the South Dakota National Guard for 25 years.

Conference Speakers

Catherine A. Cano is a principal in the Omaha, Nebraska office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Catherine splits her time between providing advice to avoid employment disputes and litigation. Catherine has defended more than 100 charges of discrimination filed with federal, state and local administrative agencies, and regularly appears before the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. She also counsels clients on workplace drug and alcohol issues, including developing substance abuse policies.

Brad Hearst, March & McLennan Agency, advises employers on employee benefits, business insurance, and focused analytical resources. He works in collaboration with his clients' board of directors, c-suite, and human resources directors to identify challenges and build a long term strategy aligned with their unique needs with a focus on plan utilization, cost contribution, benchmarking, forecasting, employee education, and engagement. He keeps clients up to date with policy, program, and procedure analysis.

Chris Hoyme is a principal in the Omaha, Nebraska, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. Chris represents management nationwide in all facets of employment litigation. He has successfully defended employers across the country in over 40 federal and state courts, as well as before numerous federal and state administrative agencies across the country. Chris looks for practical solutions for clients facing litigation, seeking the best possible positions for clients to avoid lawsuits before they are filed.

Aaron Janssen is an Account Executive working on the HUB Group Benefits Team. Aaron develops business relationships and provides professional advice regarding benefit plan designs. Prior to his time with HUB, Aaron worked with groups and individuals throughout the Midwest to help them understand strategies, including Medicare options/entitlements.

Dan LaRock is a Senior Vice President for our South Dakota Group Benefits division. He joined HUB Great Plains in 2006 and specializes in assisting clients with complicated funding arrangements and large, multi-site locations. His communication skills and strong relationships with clients, carriers and vendors help him deliver the highest levels of customer service. Dan is a committed volunteer and works with several organizations in the area including the Children's Home Society of SD, and LifeScope.

Brian Mundahl is a graduate of Southeast Technical Institute and the University of Sioux Falls with degrees in Law Enforcement Science, Business Management, and an MBA with additional education in Human Resources and Personnel Management. Prior to the Department of Labor, Brian spent more than nine years on active duty with the U.S. Navy doing payroll and financial accounting, was the branch manager of a regional payroll company, and worked in local law enforcement.

Christy Westerman, Marsh & McLennan Agency, partners with clients to build strategic benefit plans that reflect their corporate mission, vision and budget. She has a wealth of knowledge and expertise in benefit plan design and is passionate about helping clients develop and overall benefit strategy aligned with their unique needs. By taking the time to get to know her clients, she can help them develop a plan that is not only focused on their present needs but also addresses what it needed for the future.

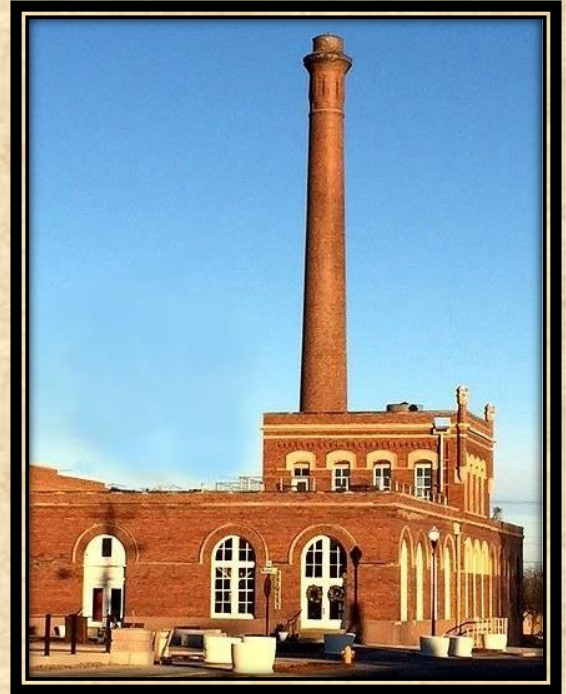

Vicki Stewart is Executive Director at Sioux Falls Business Resource Network with a history of working to advocate for the inclusion of people with disabilities into all aspects of society. Skilled in Management, Leadership, Marketing, Public Speaking, and Project Management. A strong, knowledgeable leader with a Bachelor's Degree focused in Religion/Religious Studies from Augustana University (SD).

Angie Woolridge is the Employee Development Manager at First National Bank in Sioux Falls. Angie is responsible for leading the Employee Development (training) team in achieving business strategy that is in alignment to the Bank's culture, vision, and mission. She facilitates the development of Leader Lifecycles, builds and administers the performance and talent management process and succession planning process, advises the bank's Wellbeing Committee, and oversees processes specific to onboarding, training, and development methodologies.
